

ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY WEB SITES

<http://www.dia.org/collections/asian>

For further information on the Asian collections at the Detroit Institute of Arts

http://www.123soho.com/artgroup/national_palace_museum/0702/np_3ex2.htm

For Chinese tea ceremony vessels

<http://www.artsmia.org/arts-of-asia/china/dynasties>

For a timeline of Chinese dynasties

http://www.asia-art.net/japanese_tea.html

For more on the Japanese tea ceremony

<http://www.asia.si.edu/education/artofbuddhism.pdf>

For a teacher's guide to the art of Buddhism

<http://www.chinapage.com/emperor.html>

To see portraits of Chinese emperors, including the Yongle Emperor

<http://urbandesires.com/1.4/Food/Docs/tea2.html>

For a modern version of the Chinese tea ceremony

<http://filmmakers.com/indivs/RobertFortune.htm>

http://www.enhancetv.com.au/study_it/robfort.pdf

For more information about the video "The Tea Thief!" It includes a history of the transportation of tea from East Asia to Western cultures

<http://www.easterntea.com/tea/panyaro.htm>

For more information on the Korean tea ceremony

<http://employees.csbsju.edu/jmakepeace/perspectives99/f23Turay.html>

For more about the Japanese tea ceremony

<http://ias.berkeley.edu/orias/pallop/timeline.html>

For more about the explorer Zheng He

http://www.japansociety.org/edu_minisite/teacher_resource/index.cfm

For more on many aspects of Japanese culture

http://www.koreana.or.kr/pdf_file/1997/1997_WINTER_CO22.pdf

To learn more about Korea's tea culture

<http://www.nga.gov/exhibitions/cambodia/suryavar.htm>

To learn more about Cambodian sculpture

<http://www.pbs.org/hiddenkorea/religion.htm>

To learn more about the symbols on the Korean flag

<http://www.seattleartmuseum.org/Exhibit/Archive/grandfathershouse/>

To see an example of a traditional Korean home

<http://www.silkroadproject.org>

For more information on cross-cultural lesson plans for teachers

<http://www.sportstune.com/chinese/coins/index.html>

For more about Chinese coins

<http://www.staff.hum.ku.dk/dbwagner/cangzhou/cangzhou-fg.html>

For images of the cast iron Chinese lion of Cangzhou

* All Web sites accurate as of February 2004.